Why partner with AIA Asheville?

The American Institute of Architects (AIA) is the professional society of architects, established more than 140 years ago as a national organization. AIA works to promote the value of the architectural profession and to advance the living standards of people through an improved built environment. Representing approximately 70,000 members nationally, 2,000 statewide, and more than 200 members locally, this three-tiered organization is the largest voice of the architectural community. AIA Asheville, one of 300 local and state components of The American Institute of Architects, unites the community of design professionals who live and work in the Western North Carolina region.

Our Mission
AIA Asheville seeks to build affiliations with other community-based organizations and local or regional boards and commissions. We want to work together to address issues of concern for our region such as historic preservation, smart growth, sustainability, green building, affordable housing and more. If you are interested in creating a new alliance with us or have a board position available that you would like an architect to fill, please contact us. We’ll help you find the right person for the job!
